Defining Excellence in Joinery

Established by Ben Stanbrook and Simon Nicholson in 2005, having originally met during their school years, both Directors gained their initial training and experience by working for small, local joiners.

Having seen an opportunity to expose a gap in the market, manufacturing bespoke, premium joinery products, where quality is paramount and at no time compromised, this dynamic duo took the bold decision to set-up their own business, and so Stanbrook & Nicholson was born...

Soon after, in 2006, Stanbrook & Nicholson's first factory opened; boasting state of the art CNC machinery and cutting-edge computer software, these technologically advanced facilities allow for a more streamline production process, whilst maintaining the highest quality standard for all products.

Several years on, and with the timber and aluminium industry evolving at such a rapid pace, the Stanbrook & Nicholson brand is now widely recognised for offering the leading industry products and employing the finest personnel, as we strive to deliver an unrivalled and reliable service.

Tailor-made project management

Aluminium

At Stanbrook & Nicholson we supply and install a wide array of high quality aluminium products. Whether you are in the market for aluminium doors, glazed roofing products or even aluminium composite windows, we have a solution that's perfectly suited for your project.

As a material, aluminium has many benefits including low maintenance, great energy efficiency and sleek aesthetics. Combine this with our top quality service and it's a perfect match.

Furthermore, we're equally committed to providing unrivalled customer service, which is why we put so much time and effort into selecting an extensive product range that combines high levels of quality, performance and value.

And, when you manage to make a decision, our team of experienced craftsmen will ensure that your choice of products are both expertly manufactured and installed.

Quality assured

Why choose aluminium over PVCu?

Great Look...

Aluminium products are aesthetically attractive, especially with our wide range of colours and finishes to choose from. We can also combine aluminium with traditional timber to make composite windows and doors.

Excellent Resilience...

Aluminium is extremely durable, and resists denting as well as the elements. Another added benefit of aluminium's durability is that its maintenance is virtually non-existent. You can also rest assured that when your aluminium products are installed by Stanbrook & Nicholson, our quality craftsmanship and structural integrity is second to none.

Unrivalled Energy Efficiency...

Our aluminium windows and doors meet the highest standards for air and water infiltration. As with all aluminium products, Stanbrook & Nicholson provides a polyamide thermal break, which offers improved thermal insulation. On top of that, our double glazed windows and doors all come installed with Planitherm, the latest in energy saving glass technology.

Unparalleled Security...

Aluminium is strong by nature, but our state of the art multi-point locking system ensures that all of our aluminium products are made even stronger.

Live your Home in Colour

At Stanbrook and Nicholson, we understand and appreciate the importance of matching the design and construction of your windows and doors to the design of your home or property.

We also recognise the impact which colours and finishes have on the overall appearance of your windows and doors, and how vitally important these are to getting your project right

For both wood and aluminium, ensuring that the correct colours and finishes are applied in the right way, will maximise a product's durability, longevity and maintainability.

With all that in mind, here at Stanbrook and Nicholson we're au fait at doing the job correctly, and will ensure that the products we supply and fit are still looking great for decades to come.

Our experienced spray finishers take great pride and care about providing hard-wearing coatings on our products, across a wide range of colours.

Working hard to keep updated with new technology, as and when it becomes available, our experienced spray finishers use only the market leading finishing products to best maintain each and every quality window and door we manufacture.

We offer full range of windows and doors (both aluminium and timber), in over 200 RAL colours...

All of Stanbrook and Nicholson's aluminium window products are finished in a high quality polyester powder coating, which is baked onto the aluminium frames for a tough and resilient paint finish engineered to last for decades without re-finishing or repair...

Our timber windows and doors are guaranteed to be maintenance free for a minimum of 8 years for solid colours and 4 years for stained finishes...

We offer up to 20 year options finish guarantee* on matte finish, textured paint, anodised and highly realistic wood grain effect finishes... We can even provide aluminium windows with different frame colours inside and out.
